Why JMPS?

Multiple Systems Now Fielded

- Tactical Planning - multiple applications; no common picture
 - TAMPS
 - TEAMS
 - AV-8B MPS
 - PFPS
- Interoperability –manual input-data cannot be shared
- Acquisition Support
 - Multiple program offices
 - Multiple Requirements chains
 - Multiple Competing programs

New Planning Features

The screenshot shows the JMPS software interface with several callouts highlighting new planning features:

- 1 Multi-Window: Points to the main map window.
- 2 Multi-View: Points to the left sidebar containing various mission planning views like 'Strike', 'Missions', 'Snap Shots', 'Briefing', and 'Knee Board'.
- 3 Drag & Drop: Points to the 'Data' window showing a file explorer view of mission data files.
- 4 Multi-Map Sources: Points to the 'Maps' menu and the 'F-18 Planning' folder in the 'Data' window.
- 5 Single Window Planning: Points to the 'Document 3' window showing a map view.
- 6 Tailored Point Editing: Points to the 'Point Editor' window showing fields for Fix/ID, Description, Type, Lat, Lon, Alt, and DTD.
- 7 Multi-Route Textual Editor: Points to the 'Turn Pt' table in the 'Data' window.

Taking the best of PFPS and more

Some of JMPS Benefits

- Interoperability/Collaboration - Gulf & Kosovo CAOCs #1 Need
- Reduced mission plan time - Concurrent aircraft/weapon planning
 - System usable for Real Time Targeting, Mobile Target Planning
- Improved Precision Engagement - Integrates new smart weapons
- Single Entry Point for Weapons Planning - User high interest Requirement
- Open Architecture - Best means to address evolutionary requirements - Future capabilities integrated by developers
- Standards-based Architecture - Facilitates incremental technology insertion rather than large system redesign
- Reduced life cycle costs - Single platform - Multi-service funding
- COE and GATM compliance

Force Level Planning

Strike Planning

Conditional Aircraft & Weapon Planning

Support Planning

Assault Planning

will be the Single Mission Planning Solution for Warfight

Other Capabilities in JMPS

- Multi-route, single-window planning
 - GPS Almanac
 - Route portability
 - Maps (U.S. and European)
- Server / Walkaway
 - Water pages
 - GPS Crypto
 - Route Linking
 - Mission Binder

Commonality

Mission Planning Environment (MPE)

Collaborative Planning
Mission Rehearsal
PGM Planner
Sensor Prediction
Auto Router
Low Observable

Migration Roadmap

Deployment Strategy

- Plan to release JMPS via CD or DVD quarterly
 - Upgrades
 - New capabilities
- Will not lock hard drive like NMCI
 - Will have a approved Software list
- JMPS requires COE
 - DOD Policy - COE is not authorized on personal computers
- Two JMPS installs
 - Classified and unclassified

Deployment Strategy (cont)

- Initial JMPS builds will be delivered with hardware
 - Primary focus is to support TAMPS users
 - Other communities will be supported based on need
- JMPS and PFPS can be loaded on same PC
 - JMPS maps need to be loaded first
 - Will send out a loading check list (help desk can also support)

Why JMPS?

Changing Warfare Environment Increasing Demands, Decreasing Resources

Target Set		Increasingly mobile
Threat		Mobile and electronically agile
Aircraft		Multi-mission/single seat, increased processing and "programmability"
Weapons		Guided, standoff, pre-flight planned
Operational Concepts		High tempo, maneuver warfare
National Expectations		Rapid, decisive victory, with minimal losses and enemy collateral damage/non-combatant casualties
Force Structure		Fewer platforms, weapons, and people
